New York for Answerp-A Timely Rescue by the Good Ship Ohio

LONDON, Dec 28 .- The voyage of the Nordland was tempestuous almost from the hour of leaving Sandy Hook. The winds blew almost a hurricane and the ship had much difficulty in making headsamp nad much dimensity in making head-way through the waves. Some of the pas-sengers were so apprehensive of danger that they could not be induced to retire at night. The waves tossed their icy foam on the decks until the lower riging was covered with congealed frost quivered from end to end Three ter-rific blows resounded one after the other, as if the vessel was being struck by a gigantic hammer, which, indeed, was the fact. The fright of some of the people was pitiful to behold They ushed hither and thither, delaying the officers in their efforts to get at the cause and extent of the disaster ngines raced furiously while the broken shaft—for that proved to be the anger—seemed about to crush the ship every concussion

Anchor was dropped and the passed-gers were removed to shore by a tender All showed signs of the anxiety which they had suffered; some of the elderly atterage passengers were hardly able to Several women fell on their landed. Fred Keelse, a first cabin passenger, now stopping at a Queenstown hotel, told his experience last night. "The first two days out of New York were fair, although part of the time a heavy sea was running. The weather then grew rapidly worse. On the night of the accident we were making about door It seemed as if a gigantic ham-mer was pounding out the ship's bot-

were laid as usual, but few eared to eat. At 3 o'clock on Saturday morning the lookout yelled 'Light shead!' Everybody turned out and listened eag-erly for the next word 'She's a steamer,' was the next call.

We all shook hands and cheered and many ran about shouting for joy We all remained on deck the rest of the night watching the Ohio's lights. At daylight she stood by and passed a hawser At that time (as I learned subsequently) our after peak was full of water, and despite their expressions of confidence, the officers of the ship were intensely anxious
"The Ohio began towing very slowly The strain caused by the heavy seas was too great and the hawser broke Before another hawser could be passed nine hours had elapsed. The second hawser broke, as did also the third On Sunday morning other hawsers were fixed and as the weather ging was covered with congealed frosting and the deck itself was like a skatung pond The Nordland labored along successfully until Thursday evening. It was bitter cold and the passengers were congratulating them selves on gradually nearing the end of their stormy voyage

The steamer was in latitude 18 52 west and longitude 50 15, when at 920 o'clock in the evening, a tremendous crash was heard and the vessel doubt the hawsers were shortened off the steamship Ohio proceeded to Liverpool last evening. Most of the steamer who went ashore taken back later and will live aboard the Nordland until final orders are received from London as regards their transportation to Antwerp Probably the Nordland will be repaired.

Monday norning early Leonard was found by Cannedy on the floor of the room shock ingly beaten over the head. Tuesday conard died and an inquest was held. Connedy protests that he did not assault Leonard, but the evidence adduced, together with the opinion of the physi-cians, is that the fatal injuries could not have been inflicted by a fall. No doubt Mr. Kennedy will have to stand trial on s charge of murderous assault. The somburg of the Leonard family accept Kennedy's statement as a probably true. Both men were good friends. TWO OPERATORS LET OUT. Young Man and Young Woman Discharged by the Western

There was an unexpected holiday sur prise at the Western Union telegraph office in Library Block this morning when W. W. Wilson, head operator, and Miss Elma Snyder, second operator, and daughter of a widowed mother, both members of the O. R. T. order, were summarily discharged in the name of the company by Manager Davis. The notice was wholly unexpected and it was quite s shock to Miss Snyder capacially. Both perators had attended faithfully to their duties and there was no cause or the reason for his discharge, Manage Davis said he could give none. All he knew, he said, was that he had received a letter from Chicego notifying him the whatever for complaint or dismissal; in fact, when Mr. Wilson made a demand we operators would arrive from Chicago to relieve Wilson and Miss Snyder. Both perators, who wear the badge of the O R. T. organization, left the office no wise as to the cause for the dismissal than were the two non-union operators who took their places. Operator Wilson says he never had bigger surprise in his life than when Manager Davis fired him out. A mont ago when Charles Millspaugh, himist an O. R T. operator, quit the office, Wilson was summoned from Louisville to take his place. He says he came her expecting to hold down a steady job so long as he attended to business. He has done that, and had reason to believe that he would have a good warm couch at night and three square meals a day through the weary winter until the robins nest again; but all too soon were his bright dreams blasted by the gr nd counce in the midst of the frigid season and half way between Merry Chris mas and the glad New Year. His cash is iminished by too generous remembrance of his new found friends in Decatur, and to get cut of town it will be necessary for him to sell or pawn hs watch. Wilson believes that the Western Union balt will be $1.00 and not has it in for the O. R. T. op-rators, and that all members of that union labor organization will be weeded out as apidly se the badges appear in the fflees. But Wilson is at a loss to know how the superintendent at Chicago knew that he and Miss Snyder were O. R. T. operators. Manager Davis, he says, was ware of the fact. Possibly in due time Manager David

It is said by Wilson that Mr. Davis has promised to give him a strong letter of recommendation and add that he had resigned his position in the Decator fice, but Wilson refused to accept suc In the meantime Manager Davis and he two operators from Chicago will do

he business at the Decatur office. BOTH IMPROVING.

The Participants in Yesterday's Runaway Better. Dave Epler, the driver of the carrier eam, that runsway yesterday and comwithin an ace of killing two people, i sble to sit up to-day and converse wit his friends. He states that a dog barkng at the horses scared them and tha there would probably have not been a ocident had the rear wheel of the arriage not caught in the guard rail of the street car track. Dave's escape from an instant death was indeed marvelou He weighs 215 pounds and was throw over fitteen feet to the ground striking on his head at the base of the skuil. H was picked up unconscious and for hours remained in that condition. Th attending physician states that Day will probably entirely recover, with the chances in his favor. The lady, Miss Barnes, was not hadly hurt as was at first thought, but will recover. She was roughly shaken up but lackily received no fractures. Hattie Brittain, by her attorney, W. G Cochran, filed a bill in the Macon County circuit court, asking for a divorc from her husband, Joseph Brittian. This couple were married on Jan. 2, 1877. Mrs. Brittian recites that her busband has been given much to dranking and says that when he is under the influence of liquor be is quarrelsome and abusive. During to Thomas Oraine, of Sangamon county, July last a few days before she left him he was drunk and threatened to shoot her. Fearing for her life she fi-d to the L Moon, both of Maroa; and to Allen home of a neighbor. Two children, Brick and Miss Ida McReynolds, both of girl 14 and a son 13, were born to this couple and the mother asks for the person unfit to be entrusted with their are and custody. Gave a Note. The other evening Conrad Krentel, the contractor, had some difficulty in getting out of the city. He finally left for New Orleans with his family. A Decaunt fire had a bill against him and got out at tachment papers. Krental made a schedu'e, showing that he had no assets, and was released. Then he went to a bank and had $500 sent to his wife at New Origans, Thereupon his creditor had Krental arrested for perjury. He wettler by getting a Decatur man to go on h note for the amount. It was a close shave for Mr. Kreatal.

$250,000 More. The Chicago University is again luck. Two hundred and fifty thousand dollars more has been contributed to the andowment fund. Who the donor is nowever, is a secret that the trustees o Reserved to member 28, at 7:30 o'clock sharp, for work in to themselves. On one point only would the university are religiously keeping they give any information, and that was that it was not a gift from Jay Gould. At the meeting of the trustees yester-day afternoon, the bequeet was an counced. The donor lives outside The Formal Dedication.

The Hotel Sackriter will be formally opened at Monticello on Friday evening December 30, 1892. A large number of Decator people have received invitations to attend the opening. A grand benquet will be spread at 3 o'clock, which will be followed by toasts, music and
